Nobody took direct action against this insult, except General Nicolas Radescu who had been King Ferdinand's A.D.C. and a good friend of Queen Marie. He addressed the following letter to Baron von Killinger. Because of this letter General Radescu was arrested and sent to the internment camp in Targu Jin, where he remained for 14 months and where he began to collaborate with the Communists, thousands of whom were in the same camp. By his frank attitude, he succeeded in winning the entire confidence of the Communists.

You found it necessary to invite the members of the German embassy in Bucharest to the meeting. You undoubtedly had the right to do so.
